

On the Green

EDWARD MINER GALLAUDEY MEMORIAL LIBRARY
GALLAUDEY COLLEGE
WASHINGTON, D. C.

VOL. IV. NO. 23
March 26, 1975

AROUND AND ABOUT

--A series of 10 half-hour introductory sign language classes will be aired over WRC-TV in the Washington, D.C., area, April 7-18, from 6:28-6:58 a.m. Shown as part of the NBC-TV program, "Knowledge," the classes will be taught by Lily Corbett and Martin Sternberg from the Deafness Research and Training Center at New York University.

--The Office of Demographic Studies has recently published Research Bulletin #1, "Reported Emotional/Behavioral Problems Among Hearing Impaired Children in Special Education Programs: United States, 1972-73." A new series of publications, the Research Bulletins will be article-length studies as opposed to the detailed D and C monographs also published by ODS.

--The Rotary District #762 scholarship committee has announced that it has recently passed the $10,000 mark in raising funds for scholarship and fellowship awards to Gallaudet students.

NEW MAJOR INTRODUCED

Starting with the fall 1975 semester, students will be able to elect a major in American Studies. Students majoring in this interdisciplinary field will take courses in eight different departments. All of these courses will focus on various facets of American culture.

For further information, please contact Trent Batson in room 183, Hall Memorial Building.

HAVE YOU HEARD...

...about Tom Berg, Lillian Bishop, Iris Garnett, Floyd Holt, Eveline Lloyd, Pam Minger, Ramon Rodriguez, Roz Rosen and Lupe Starr?

If you haven't, just check out page six of your Affirmative Action Plan. They are now and will continue working hard in carrying out the work of their committee, developing new guidelines for Affirmative Action at Gallaudet and formulating an Affirmative Action Plan for the handicapped.

Want to help? Read your Affirmative Action Plan and tell them what you think!

STUDENTS GIVE A HAND TO THE BLIND

A group of 12 Gallaudet students will be going to the circus Thursday evening, but they will be there for more than just entertainment.

WMAL-RADIO is sponsoring an evening at the circus for 100 area blind children and called on Gallaudet for help. Our students will accompany a group of the children and assist in interpreting the program to them.

Most of the students participating are serving as volunteer tour guides for the College's Visitors Program.

BEFORE YOU THROW IT AWAY...

...call Judy Bortner, Frances Merrill or Rosalyn Gannon. That is if you are thinking of discarding an old piece of furniture, books or other College memorabilia.

We may not have a use for these things immediately, but we can provide storage space until we have adequate display areas.
